

QUARTERMASTER'S NEW FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH HOME. DECLARATIONS OF SEGREGATION

Whites Do Not Want To
Even Use Same Toilet Restaurant Has Been "Jim Crown" For Years.

The latest insult to the Negro in this city is the color line which was this week drawn at the United States Arsenal. Second and Arsenal Streets, where certain water closets were set aside for the use of Colored employees, only.

Last Monday, practically all the colored employees used the toilets in Warehouse No. 1, and the one at the Arsenal. The colored employees are not only segregated, but they are also being treated as second-class citizens. The Arsenal has been using one of the toilets in Warehouse No. 1, and Colored men have been very generously informed of the exclusive preparations for their comfort by a large sign on the second floor. Many of the men have voiced their protest against this, but no concerted action has been taken.

"Jim Crown" Restaurant
For a number of years, segregation has been practiced in a restaurant operated on the grounds, by private parties. White laborers, clerks, etc., have free access to the tables, but Negro employees, of whatever rank, seem to be excluded from the premises. The recent order is believed to be the work of some petty officer. It is not thought Lieutenant Colonel W. F. Clark, the Depot Quartermaster, has yet been apprised of the situation. In the past he has been reasonably generous toward Colored men.

The situation presented at the Arsenal is one which should be remedied. The Colored men who are employed there are loyal and interested in seeing the United States prosper. The Arsenal has many German employees in responsible positions, who are given preference over Colored men in matters of employment, yet the loyalty of the Colored men is unquestioned, while the German's loyalty has to be traced before anyone knows which way he leans. Segregation among the civil employees of the War Department in St. Louis and all over the United States should not be tolerated. The N. A. A. C. P. should investigate and have this condition corrected.

Negro Business League

A large class was graduated from the first of whom finished the Manual Training, Home Economics and Commercial Course. The exercises of the Normal class were held Tuesday night, and the audience and class was addressed by Mr. Festus J. Wade. Wednesday evening, the audience enjoyed a rare treat from the symposium of orations on South America, by the graduates. Their expatriation of the country made one have a different idea of our sister district across the equator. Prof. Frank L. Williams, principal, presented Mr. Richard Murphy, president of the school board, who awarded the diplomas to the graduates. The following is a list of the graduates from the different schools:

SUMNER HIGH SCHOOL

THE NEW HOME
At Cardinal and Bell Aves.

Thursday night the members of the First Baptist Church, met at Cardinal and Bell Avenues and were introduced to their new home. That they were jubilant, no one can doubt. The home of the Old Mother Church has long outlived its usefulness. Repeated efforts have been made to secure a new location, but not until now has the congregation been able to raise a sum sufficient to make a first payment. Under the leadership of their new pastor, Rev. O. C. Maxwell, the goal has at last been reached, and the members will soon march joyfully into the modern and spacious edifice at Bell and Cardinal. All Christians will rejoice with their side-aid will help to lift the burden of debt incurred by the change.

THE JANUARY GRADUATES

The annual graduation exercises of the Sumner High and the Grammar schools was observed in all except a few of the smaller schools. The number of grammar school graduates, who are now eligible to enter the high, will necessarily show changes at Sumner as the school is already overcrowded.

Miss Pearle Beatrice Cass To Wed

A wedding in which much interest is manifested and, which will be one of the most notable nuptial and social affairs, will be celebrated Saturday morning at 10:30 at St. Elizabeth Church, when Miss Pearle Beatrice Cass, daughter of Mr. John Cass, 4206 Cass, will become the bride of Mr. John Cass, 4206 Cass. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. John Cass, 4206 Cass. The bride is a daughter of Mr. John Cass, 4206 Cass. The wedding plans have been made as simple as possible as she is just barely out of university but her social activities have caused her to be honored with many honors and she has been the recipient of many handsome and useful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Cass will have a reception at their home, 4206 Cass, on Saturday night.

BATTLE OF FLOWERS TO BE REPEATED

On account of the Government Pull Order, we were compelled to postpone the Battle of Flowers. We think they are much more possibly reach and who came out and we think those who attended our Day Dance, Wednesday night.

The very first Monday night the first order decided, we are coming back with a bigger and better Battle of Flowers. This will make St. Louis sit up and take notice. Our crowd would have ranged from 100 to 1000 people. I think the people of St. Louis for their loyal support.

Mrs. Harrison was accompanied in prayer by two Christian ladies of Chicago, Mrs. A. K. Bristol and Mrs. Cox. She visited many homes and met with wonderful success. She is wonderful, having cured several cases of tuberculosis, stopped hemorrhages immediately, cured heart trouble, got rid of and removed pain in five minutes, and many other diseases.

Mrs. Harrison has for the past four years tried to excite her power and wonderful gift which God has given her. Those suffering and in need of God's help and blessing given through her, call and see her. Come trusting in the Lord and be healed. She has testimonies from those she has healed both at home and abroad. She has some striking predictions which have already come to pass except one, and ask to help you through these three years of famine. She is yet standing with outstretched arms to help those who are sick and afflicted. Mrs. A. Harrison, 2119 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis, Ill.

Families in England That Have Long Records in the Service of Their Country

The town clerk of Henley-on-Thames has had the name of Cooper since 1777. Whether it has always been a case of son following father is not clear, but the law firm of Cooper has always during that period supplied the town clerk, London. This is a remarkable fact. Everybody knows that the name of Butler is one to compare with in England, but even Butler's name is not so common as the name of Cooper. Whatever that may be of Crediton cathedral church for upward of 200 years without a break.

Everybody at Hitchins knows the Hobbs family. They are the perennial postmen of the place. Their grandfather carried the letters long before penny postage was dreamed of and the letter-carrying business has been done by a Hobbs ever since.

Parliament can supply a few such records. When the son of Lord Derby put up for a division of Liverpool it was said it seemed to be taken for granted that when the heir of Knowles became of age Liverpool should send him to parliament--and it did. It was said that the Newdigates, with but slight breaks, have sat for a division of Warwickshire since 1800. Quite recently P. A. Newdigate resigned his seat to become governor of Tasmania. He is the eighteenth Newdigate of one family--and the name is special--who has been an M.P. for several generations.

Special Playing Cards Now For Subjects of the Kaiser

German war enthusiasm has found vent in the banishment from Berlin of the conventional playing cards and the substitution of specially printed packs, many of which include the traditional kings, queens and knaves have been superseded by portraits of war celebrities, such as for instance, the Kaiser and the crown prince, Hindenburg, von Kluck and Tiritz.

The idea is not exactly new, similar "military packs" having made their appearance in 1870-71, during the last Franco-German war. These are now valued by collectors.

Much later the Kaiser had a number of so-called "royal packs" printed from his own designs, at the German government's printing works at Altenburg, near Berlin. One of these, now in possession of King George, shows the portrait of his grand mother, Queen Victoria, as queen of hearts. The Kaiser figures as the king of hearts, while the pope is allotted the supremacy of spades. By a pretty bit of irony the knaves are represented by four leading European statesmen, Lord Beaconsfield, Bismarck, then premier, being knave of clubs.

Mother's Cook Book.

One thing that made the bread that mother used to make so good, was the appetite the boys had.

Good Things for the Boys.

It takes a good deal of food to fill an ordinary growing boy, and he needs it for his active life. He needs food the same time using food to supply heat and energy for his daily activities. An active boy will digest hearty food for he burns up a large amount in play and work.

Spiced Beef.

Take five pounds or more, depending upon the size of the family, of beef from the rump. Trim away the meat and cut into strips, about 1/2 inch thick. Edge in that pack the stuffing made by using meat, eggs and salt and onion. Stuff the beef with a pinch of sage. After stuffing, rub the meat all over with salt, pepper, cloves, allspice, then with vinegar. Let stand over night. In the morning put into a kettle with a cupful of water and cook slowly (very) for several hours, allowing a half hour for every pound of meat; turn it often while cooking so that the gravy will season all parts of the meat. Serve hot or sliced cold. Thicken the gravy and serve with the meat.

Apple Pancakes.

Rub to a cream a tablespoonful each of sweet fat and sugar, add two beaten eggs, one and a half cups of flour, sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder and a cupful of chopped apples. Flavor with nutmeg or cinnamon and add milk to make medium batter. Fry as ordinary griddle cakes and serve in an overlapping row, around the platter of roast pork or mince.

Apple Dowsy.

Rub an earthenware dish well with shortening and line with slices of bread, also spread with a butter substitute, then fill the dish with sliced apples, sprinkle with brown sugar and a little nutmeg, turn in half a cupful each of hot water and molasses, then cover with slices of buttered bread, buttered side up. Cover the dish for the first hour of baking then uncover and bake for another hour. Serve from the baking dish, with powdered sugar and cream for a sauce.

Alfalfa and Peanut Salad.

Clean alfalfa carefully of roasted chopped peanuts to a cupful of celery, cut in inch pieces and crisp in ice water. Serve lettuce with French dressing. Little onion juice improves this salad dressing.
